THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

Court of Probate for said county, Special Term, Dec. 22, 1862.

THIS day came John Brock, Administrator of the Estate of Lawrence Brock, deceased, and filed his petition in writing, praying for an order of said Court for the sale of the Real Estate belonging to said estate, for distribution among the heirs at law of the said Lawrence Brock, deceased.

Said Real Estate is described as follows, to-wit: Town Lots situated in the Town of Jacksonville, Alabama, and numbered according to the plan of said Town, to-wit:

Lot No. 5, Lot No. 68, Lots Nos. 79 and 80, Lot No. 86, Lot No. 87, and Lots Nos. 87 and 88.

Also the following tracts or parcels of Land, to-wit: seven forty acre lots in one tract, known and distinguished as the Peter Bollerger place. Also three forty acre lots in another tract, known and distinguished as the McCollum place; all lying in the County of Calhoun and State of Alabama.

He further alleges that the following persons are the heirs of the said deceased, to-wit:

George Brock, who resides in Cherokee County and State of Georgia; John Brock, the petitioner; Nancy Brock, of full age, who resides in Greenville District and State of South Carolina.

The children of Walker Brock, deceased, to-wit: Thomas Brock, of full age, who resides in the State of Georgia, county unknown; Hiram Brock, who resides in the State of Georgia, county unknown; wife of Lawson Hawkins, (whose name is not remembered) who died, leaving one child, in Jasper County and State of Georgia, names, number, ages and sex unknown. The children of Elizabeth Brock, who married Nicholas Waddle, and died, leaving children in Cherokee County, and State of Georgia, to-wit: Jack W. Waddle, who has since died, and it is not known whether he left children or not; Alfred W. Waddle who resides in the State of Georgia; North Gregory, of full age, who resides in Calhoun County, Alabama; and the wife of Silas Payne, name not remembered, and who died leaving children in Cherokee County and State of Georgia. A. M. Gilbreath, Nancy Gilbreath and Lawrence Gilbreath, children of Ebidocia Gilbreath, late Ebidocia Brock, deceased, who reside in Greenville District and State of South Carolina.

The children of Jack Duncan of whom he has not known or heard anything for many years.

William H. Burns, son of Juliet Burns, late Juliet Brock, (now deceased), who is of full age, and resides in Greenville District, State of South Carolina.

It is therefore ordered by the court, that the 16th day of February, 1863, be set for the hearing of said petition. It is further ordered, that notice thereof be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in the Town of Jacksonville, in said county for forty days, prior to said 16th day of February, as a notice to all persons concerned to be and appear at a regular term of said court to be held at the court house of said county, on said 16th day of February next, and defend against said petition, if they think proper.

Witness A. Woods Judge of said court at office, this 22d day of Dec. 1862.

GEN. JOSEPH WHEELER.

The exploits of this dashing young partisan leader in the late campaign around Murfreesboro have electrified the whole country with a thrill of pleasure and admiration. As the "boy General" is a native of this city, where his father, Joseph Wheeler, Esq., resides—the laurels he is winning are peculiarly gratifying to our citizens. As his name is on every tongue throughout the Confederacy, in connection with his splendid achievements, a paragraph in reference to his history may be interesting to readers.

He was born in Augusta, Ga., on September 18, 1836, and was therefore 26 years old last September. He entered the military academy at West Point in June 1853, and graduated in June, 1858, when he received a commission as Lieutenant of cavalry, and October following, was stationed at the military post at Carlisle, Penn. He remained there until Sept. 1860, when full of the spirit of adventure which his recent exploits are illustrating, he grew tired of inglorious ease, and obtained a transfer to the far west, where the proximity of the hostile Indians and bands of border outlaws promised some exercise of his taste for active service.

Confederate Cavalry and Yankee Gunboats.

The Invisible Wheeler, continues to make great havoc with the Yankee gunboats, transports, cars and locomotives. These gunboats, instead of being the dreaded monsters they were twelve months ago, are now proving to be mere man traps for the thieving Yankees. Solomon said there was nothing new under the sun; but had he lived in this day to witness the exploits of Wheeler and his "Horse Marines," he might have made an exception in that case.

Rosecrans is represented to be in a deplorable condition—unable to advance for want of munitions and supplies—up on half rations, and that being continually cut off by Confederate cavalry—it is difficult to imagine any escape for him except by a speedy evacuation of Nashville and that whole region of country. Hooker, too, the successor of Burnside, is "stuck in the mud," on the Rappahannock, unable to move backward or forward. Upon the back of all this, comes the news of the glorious naval victory at Galveston, and that over the blockading fleet at Charleston, by the two iron clads, "Palmetto State" and "Ochee." The Yankee blockades acknowledge their manliness to be over four millions of dollars in the last month, one fourth of which they attribute to the doings of Capt. Semmes of the "Alabama." A few more Alabamas which will soon be afloat, will well sweep Yankee commerce from the seas.

Surely with all this, not to speak of the financial embarrassments of the Yankees, and their discussions in the north west, there is no cause of despondency on the part of the friends of southern independence; and it is time for the world of mankind, and the rest of Yankee civilization, to come to the conclusion, that the conquest of the Southern Confederacy, is a thing that can't be done.

Let us feel under no obligations to our kindred, who insist of complaint, on our side of the country, which we so willingly yielded, of printing a half sheet, have met us with words of encouragement and hope. We are grateful for this manifestation of their confidence and just appreciation of our motives, in refusing to increase the price of our paper, and we promise them in return to command our space—carefully, promptly and honestly all that is of interest—and as soon as possible, not only return to a half sheet, but to one enlarged, improved and beautiful.

the bill was objectionable inasmuch as it did not provide for exemption, those physically unfit for military service in the field, and further, in that it says those officers whom his State had said might go into the military service, shall not go. Mr. Curry replied to the remarks of Mr. Conrad, of Louisiana, respecting the conscription of ministers of the Gospel, and in this connection paid a most eloquent tribute to the devotion of Southern women to the cause. He had early in the session introduced a bill to amend the Exemption law by repealing that portion in regard to owners and overseers of negroes, and he thought that the highest interests of the country demanded that such action from the new bill. Mr. Curry was listened to with profound attention.

We refer to the advertisements from the Chief Engineer's Office, and hope they will be promptly answered.

This work is not about to end in length, one half of which is nearly ready for the superintendence, and the remainder is under way, which may be done very rapidly. It is to be constructed by railroad men, the most important step to be taken in the Confederacy, it will do much for us as a nation, and for the future of the South, and of the iron of North Alabama directly to the sea, and of Alabama, Georgia, E. Tenn. & Virginia.

The attention of the travelling public is directed to the advertisement of Mr. H. H. Sargent, who has opened a new hotel in this place.

The camp landing in Upper Grand River Arkansas Post—Federal troops near Carthage.

The enemy has been landing troops from his transports, below Young's point, all day, and some twenty boats are now lying a mile and a half above the mouth of the canal. Troops can be seen from the city, and tents and camp fires are visible this afternoon.

Occasional shells have been thrown from our batteries during the day.

Several prisoners captured near Milliken's Ford, who have just arrived, via New Orleans, confirm the report of the fall of Arkansas Post.

ROUSE, Miss., Jan. 22. A courier arrived at St. Joseph, Louisiana, at two o'clock this evening, from Major Harrison's headquarters, six miles above Carthage, reports that two hundred Yankee cavalry surprised the Texas cavalry this morning.

The Yankees were repulsed with the loss of their Colonel who was mortally wounded, and captured by our men before he expired.

He said his command started out with the second intention of capturing Major Harrison and his battalion.

None hurt on our side.

Major Harrison has sent down for reinforcements and expects the attack to be repulsed.

Our men were taken wholly by surprise, being dismounted, but fought them off.

Richmond, Jan. 28. In the Senate, to-day, Mr. Phenix of Mississippi, introduced a bill for the condemnation to public use of all the cotton in the Confederate States, which was referred to a select committee.

The Supreme Court Bill was further discussed in the House, and various propositions were submitted.

No definite action was had on any subject, when the Exemption bill was taken up, and the house went into secret session.

Richmond, Jan. 27. There has been a continuous fall of snow all day.

Advices from Fredericksburg represent all quiet. The tempestuous weather has probably disconcerted the enemy's plans and defeated his programme for the capture of Richmond and Wilmington. He will not be able to accomplish anything in Northern Virginia, or Eastern North Carolina this winter.

Richmond, Jan. 28. Butler has arrived at home at last and made another characteristic speech, in which he said: "Within the first month of my arrival, 14,000 of the of the bone and sinew of New Orleans had taken the oath of allegiance, not by lip service only, but from the heart, and from that day I found to man or any slaves who would take the oath of allegiance except to save property. I found working men true and slaveholders false to the Union. I don't kindly wish the working men and harshly with the slaveholders."

The Paris correspondent of the New York World to-day, repeats the conviction that the recognition of the Southern Confederacy, first by France and then by all Europe is a foregone conclusion, and it is now only a question of time.

The Liverpool Journal of Commerce states on the best authority that the Alabama would sail immediately for the West Indies.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune says the newspapers give no idea of the extent of suffering in Rouen and its neighborhood, produced by cotton famine.

Richmond, Jan. 28. The Lynchburg Republican that a gentleman who left Knoxville on Sunday last reports that the Kentucky Legislature had passed by a majority of five to one, an ordinance of secession from the Abolition Union.

In a late speech in New York, Greeley said: "I do not see the end of the war. I am not sanguine that that under the leaders we have immediate triumph is at all certain. We may have that, but we are morbidly not to have that."

The Legislature of New York has been in fear of a mob for a week past. The police have been called out to enforce order.

The New York Post advocates a backward movement. It says the Rebel army in Tennessee, strengthened by the bulk of Lee's army, would have a abundant time to fall upon Rosecrans and Grant and destroy him before our Eastern forces could reach the Rebel capital.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 28. Another steamer from Nassau has arrived at a Confederate port. Two other steamers are expected.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 28. Still another English merchant steamer ran into a Confederate port this morning. She left Nassau on the 25th. This is her first trip to the Confederate coast.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 28. One day's later advices from Nassau reports the sailing of a number of steamers for Southern ports.

A dispatch from Hardville says that Harle's artillery attacked a gunboat at Buckingham Ferry on Tuesday. No loss on our side; that of the enemy not known.

SAVANNAH, Jan. 27. After five and a half hours' fierce bombardment of Fort McAllister, the enemy withdrew about 1 o'clock to-day. Not a man was hurt nor a gun dismounted on our side. The damage done to the fort can be repaired in a day.

Edison B. Old, just from the Federal Battle, Fort Lafayette, was escorted to his seat in the Ohio Legislature, at Columbus, by a procession two miles long.

From the Atlanta Confederacy.

The Horse Matrices Broke Loose.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 30. Federal's Cavalry attacked a fleet of 25 Federal transports on the Cumberland, and destroyed five on last Friday.

The fleet was accompanied by two gunboats, and was coming down from Nashville. On Saturday the Cavalry destroyed a locomotive and five cars at Lawrence, and captured the guard of 32 men.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 30. The gunboat John P. Smith, carrying eleven guns and about two hundred men, surrendered unconditionally to our forces this afternoon after a sharp engagement in Stono River. The enemy's loss is heavy; only one man wounded on our side. One other gunboat escaped in a crippled condition. One force was under the command of Lieut. Col. Yates.

A dispatch to the Advertiser from Jackson, 19th inst., which says that parties from Memphis state that Gen. Harburt, of Illinois, commanding that post, and Gen. Wilard, of Ohio, have resigned in consequence of Lincoln's proclamation.

The Yankees continue maneuvering opposite and below Vicksburg, but an early engagement is considered doubtful.

Richmond, Jan. 30. A special dispatch to the Dispatch from Fredericksburg says that Northern dates of the 27th inst have been received.

Burnside has resigned and Holzer appointed his successor. Gold had advanced in consequence to 150. Sumner and Franklin had been relieved of their commands.

Richmond, Jan. 30. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says that the rebels have determined to prosecute the war with the greatest vigor for the next three or four months. If peace is not conquered within that time, they will accept the mediation of Napoleon and recognize the South on condition that it will agree to plan a gradual emancipation.

Richmond, Jan. 30. The Philadelphia Enquirer of the 28th has been received at Fredericksburg, which contains dispatches dated Headquarters Army of the Potomac, which say that Burnside has turned over the command of the Army to Hooker, who has arrived at Headquarters for the purpose of assisting it as soon as the change becomes known. The superior officers had called on Burnside and took their final leave with many regrets.

Wheeler's rebel cavalry had made a dash at a train of cars on the Nashville and Franklin road, destroying two cars.

Dispatches from Memphis state that McArthur's division was preparing to move, and that transports were engaged for the purpose. It is generally believed that the movement will be against Vicksburg.

Grant had been down there holding a conference with the other generals and had returned to Memphis. He is preparing to take command of the expedition in person. Rumor says that he will supersede McClellan.

Cott is arriving at Memphis free. In the Senate, Wilson reported a bill to organize two hundred and fifty thousand men to be raised pro rata from the several States, between the ages of twenty one and thirty five.

Richmond, Jan. 30. In the Senate Harwell from the Committee on Finance, presented a bill to regulate the currency, providing that Treasury notes fundable in 7 per cent bonds shall be issued on or before the 1st of July, and afterwards only fundable in 6 per cent bonds, the new issues to be fundable within 6 months from their date in 6 per cent bonds, and afterwards in 4.

The House debated the Exemption Bill.

The Committee of the whole adopted an amendment that no person shall be enrolled who has a substitute in the army furnished according to the orders heretofore issued by the Secretary of War, unless the substitute has deserted or has or shall become liable to military service. The Committee then arose, and the House adjourned to Monday.

Gunboat Fight. CHARLESTON, Jan. 31. The two iron-clad gunboats Ochee and Palmetto State, with three steamers as tender, went out beyond bar at one o'clock A. M., to attack the blockading force. The firing began soon after one, and for a time was very rapid and continuous. Afterwards it slackened, but continued at intervals until 5 o'clock this morning, owing to the fog the result is not yet known. Commodore Ingraham is aboard the "Palmetto State," as commander of the expedition.

MERIDIAN, Jan. 31. Our fleet attacked the blockaders of Charleston harbor to-day, sank two of them and set fire to another, the Quaker City, which struck her colors, but afterwards escaped. Not one of enemy's fleet are in sight.

OBITUARY. Departed this life on the 1st of July 1862 of cholera infantum, Joseph Augustus, infant son of Jas. A. and M. J. Graham, after a lingering illness of some weeks. He yielded his little spirit to God at the tender age of one year and eight months and eighteen days. Little Gussey was sweet, gentle, and mild in disposition, and was the joy and idol of his parents, and just as he was becoming interesting and his little mind began to expand on earth, God thought proper to transplant him into a more congenial clime (the spirit land), there to associate with angels, and himself freed from the ills and corruption of this earthly world.

Sleep on, little Gussey, till resurrection morn, when thy happiness shall be more complete.

Then weep not fond parents for little Gussey, but rather rejoice that thy sweet little babe is free from the troubles, toils and ills of this sinful world, and adopt the language of one who said: "He Lord give it and the Lord take it away, blessed by the name of the Lord," and be prepared to meet him in the glory land, where fond mother can meet her sweet little Gussey, where parting will be no more.

Oh what is all this world to me? Now that my babe is gone? From everything I hear or see, 'The light of life has flown.' It is not summer to my eyes, 'The summer's season is hid; He who made gay the earth and skies, Sleeps beneath a coffin lid.

There is no verdure to be seen, No flowers upon the lea; For he whose soul I made all things green, Hath no more smile for me. Now all things wear the sickly hue, Of my own spirit's sad; And nothing can the chain renew Which made the earth look glad.

Oh he was such a lovely child, So innocent so fair; His very look a full of joy, His smile a sun in his hair. That when he nestled to my heart, And nestled on my breast, I thought the mother had no liestad, And all the world was best.

Put now 'tis since he has died, All day and night I pine, And never was a heart beside, So desolate as mine. There are the toys his little hands, So sportfully did use, And here his empty cradle stands, And here his tiny shoes.

Oh take them from my sight, Each word a cruel dart, Shattered by fatal memories bright, Into my bleeding heart. Take all away since he is gone, Save one of his fair curls; And that shall on my breast be worn, Set and with costly pearls.

But like the diamond gleaming bright, Upon a withered wreath, 'Twill make more dreary by its light, The wasted heart beneath.

J. C. B.

Dr. M. Roper, of Calhoun co., Ala., died at his father's residence, July 6 1862. He was the son of Rev. W. F. Roper, was born Aug. 4th, 1836. When he grew up to manhood, he chose the medical profession as his vocation, and after studying it, commenced to practice in 1858, and continued till the day of his death. By his energy, industry and perseverance he proved himself worthy of the position he occupied. He maintained a liberal patronage, and enjoyed an honorable grade in the profession. In 1859, he was married to Miss P. A. Story daughter of Wm. M. Story, Esq., but in 1860, by the death of his wife he was left a widower.

In the summer of 1861, he volunteered in Capt. Alexander's Co. and was elected 2d Lieut., but before the company went into service, he withdrew, being urged upon to stay by his numerous friends, and continue the practice of his profession. And after the company had been in service a short time, he again attached himself and staid till he and his brother, Sergt. John Roper were attacked with the measles, from which neither ever recovered. John in a few days died like none but the Christian soldier dies, and is now no doubt, basking in the sunlight of eternal bliss. As soon as he was able to travel, and even before he was able, he obtained a furlough to bring his brother home, and soon after he arrived at home the released and grew worse till death released him from his sufferings, and when the summons came, he had nothing to do but fall asleep, "asleep in Jesus blessed rest, from which none ever wakes to weep."

He possessed superior intelligent abilities, and was always well posted in Government affairs, and everything that affected the interests and welfare of the country. He took great interest in the advancement of literature, morality and religion. He looked with utter contempt upon all who were loose, law and mean, and hesitated not to deal out literally, the most withering epithets and sarcasms upon all such. He was truthful, honest, high-minded and dignified, his character is worthy of imitation, and in his death the church has lost a good member, and the country one of her best citizens. To his friends, parents, brothers and sisters, we tender our heartfelt sympathies, and while we weep, we should be comforted with the thought that he now rests from his toils and anxieties of this wicked and troublesome world, and that we will soon join him where parting is unknown.

East Call. PERSONS having open accounts with me, are requested to call on me before the 20th of this month. G. J. CLARK, Jacksonville, Feb. 5, 1862.

NOTICE. WHEREAS, I have been appointed administrator of the estate of the late J. H. SARGENT, deceased, I hereby give notice that I will receive and settle all claims against said estate, on or before the 20th of this month. J. H. SARGENT, Executor.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS. ETTERS of Respectability of the Estate of J. H. SARGENT, deceased, are hereby notified that the Judge of Probate for said county, to the undersigned on the 12th January last, all persons having any claims against the estate of the said J. H. SARGENT, are requested to present them duly proven within the time prescribed by law, or they will be barred. Immediate payment of all debts due to said estate is required, or failing to do so, the undersigned will be compelled to do so. J. H. SARGENT, Executor.

NEW HOTEL. AND STAGE HOUSE. The undersigned has opened a new hotel, on the north side of main street, in the building recently occupied by and connected with the extensive Hotel of James H. Private, where every effort will be made to entertain and accommodate the traveling public. His table will be furnished with the best market affords, and no pains spared to make his guests comfortable. The stage will leave every morning, except Monday, for Rome at six o'clock, and for the Mountain, head of the railroad, at 9 o'clock in the evening upon the arrival of the stage from Rome. There is a good and commodious Stage Stable attached to the house, by which passengers on irregular routes can always be accommodated. Feb. 5, '62. J. H. SARGENT.

Chancery Sale. UNDER and by virtue of a decree of the Chancery Court for the 26th District, Northern Chancery Division, I, as Special Registrar of said court, will sell before the court house door in the Town of Jacksonville, Ala., on the second Monday the 5th day of March next, the following described lands, to-wit: the east half of the north-east quarter of section 24, in Township 13 and Range 8, in the Green Lake District, containing thirty acres, or thereabouts, to-wit: a parcel of land situated in the 26th District, 1st Range, 13th Township, in favor of Daniel T. Ryan against Wm. B. Driskill, et al.

NOTICE. All persons belonging to the company of J. H. SARGENT, who are now at home or in the field, are requested to turn out with certificates with the County Court, or they will be reported absent without leave. A certificate without seal is not more than blank paper. Also, when they return they had better bring a certificate with them. J. B. LUBBARD, Capt. Co. K, Feb. 5, '62. 48th Ala. regt.

BLUE MOUNTAIN & ROME R.R. WANTED for the Blue Mountain & Rome R.R. (21 miles) 90,000 CROSS TIES, delivered along the line of road, about 2400 per mile. The ties must be 84 feet long—seven inches thick, and have a face of at least 6 inches, saved or cut square at the ends, well hewed on two sides, barked, and piled convenient to road-bed, at the rate of 45 ties for 100 feet.

Post and white oak timber preferred, the varieties of oak, and pine when chiefly heart will also be received. The ties will be let in large or small lots, & payments made on certificate of delivery. Proposals will be received for 20 days. Address this office, or apply to Assistant Engineers upon the line.

Wanted—300 Laborers. FOR the construction of the Blue Mountain and Rome Railroad. This work is being done by an appropriation of the Government, and it is desirable to hasten the same. It is the most interior of any work in the country and the location healthy. Those willing to remove from the frontier, will find this a safe position, and from six to twelve months of profitable work. GEO. WADSWORTH, Ch. Eng. Jacksonville, Feb. 3, '62.

Mechanics. I want immediately, 50 Carpenters, or men who can handle an axe well, to work on bridges, trestles, cross ties, Docks, buildings, &c. Good wages will be paid. Those having good axes will do well to bring them along. Report to John Boyce, Foreman at Blue Mountain, or to the Railroad Office in Jacksonville. GEO. WADSWORTH, Ch. Eng. Feb. 5, '62.

TO RAILROAD CONTRACTORS. TO BE LET. THE Graduation, Masonry and Bridging of thirty miles of the Blue Mountain & Rome Railroad, between Jacksonville and Georgia State Line.

The work is for the most part tight cuttings, and will chiefly be cast up from the country. Plans and Profits may be seen at the office of Capt. Gardner, Engineer at Blue Mountain, and at my office in Jacksonville, where proposals for the whole or a part of the work may be addressed till the 20th inst. at 12 o'clock. GEO. WADSWORTH, Ch. Eng. February 5, 1862.

Appeal, Grenada, Miss., Selma Reporter, Talladega Reporter, Rome Southern, Atlanta Intelligencer and Dalton Times, will publish above notices to amount of $10 and forward account to Engineer's Office, Jacksonville, G. W.

were ordered to reorganize for three years of the war, with a promise that at the end of twelve months we should have a furlough of sixty days to go home and arrange our business.

Nearly fifteen months had elapsed, and no furlough had been granted for any length of time. Still we remained at our post, endeavoring to do our duty until that loathsome disease small pox broke out in our battalion. We were then detached from our brigade, and the General impression was that we would not be called to duty until the small pox subsided which would not be before the opening of spring, in view of all these facts, and more particularly to avoid taking the small pox ourselves, there being no chance to get a furlough if we left camps without leave, but not as deserters in the sense in which the term is generally used. It is true being absent without leave according to army regulations makes us deserters; but it is only the act not the intention. For it was the least of our thoughts ever to desert our beloved South while there is any call for an armed force to secure and maintain her independence we never thought of anything else but returning again to our command in due time. Our motto ever has been, and still is "death before

DIED.—On the 4th day of January

1845, at his residence in Calhoun Co., Alabama, seven miles south of Jacksonville, of typhoid pneumonia. Willis Woodruff. He was born in Spartanburg Dist., S. C., Nov. 16th 1845, was married Jan. 3d 1828 to Marinda Campbell. He sought and obtained peace with God, and joined the Baptist church in 1833, since which time until the hour of his death, he lived an exemplary Christian life, he was an ornament to the church, always by a pious walk and just dealing he exerted an influence on the part of piety. As regards his life, we may truthfully remark that it was unspotted. As a husband he was affectionate and kind, he was a tender and attentive parent, and as a neighbor he was ever ready to confer any favor in his power, and was unsurpassed by any for generosity and kindness. But alas! his voice is silent around the family altar.

and among men forever. We mourn his loss and feel that it is irreparable, yet we feel assured that it results in his eternal gain. When death approached him, he was calm and composed, he requested his companion, children and neighbors to meet him in Heaven; we believe that he has gone to the regions of ultimate bliss to wear the crown of glory, where he has doubtless joined a sainted mother and two lovely sons in the praises of the redeemed of God, where there are no more tears, sorrow, pain or death; but let this one thing cheer his bereaved companion and children, he cannot return to them, but they may go to him, where there will be no more parting of husband and wife, and of father and children, but a perpetual reign in endless joys and bliss for ever and forever.

R.

DIED—In Oxford Ala., on the 12th day of Jan., 1863, EMMA J. infant daughter of Henry B. and Mary A. C. Jones, aged 1 year, 10 months and 18 days. How true it is that death seizes the brightest bud most often, and tears from our hearts our dearest pet. Little Emma was the household pet, and plaything of all, remarkably interesting for one so young as all who know her can testify. She was but a precious loan entrusted to her parents but a short time then recalled to her home on high. Yet how precious had she become to their hearts during her short stay. With what endearing fondness did they regard her. But not very long was the father blessed with the cheerful fireside wife and little one. On the tented field he struggled for their freedom, and it was there the news of his favorite's death reached him. Short was her illness, (caused by diphtheria) but she suffered much. Weeping friends stood around but could do nothing, and on the seventh day of her illness the pure little spirit was with its maker.

To the mourning parents and friends we would say: weep not, "she is not dead but sleepeth." The pattering footsteps are no longer heard, the prat-

ting talk and ringing laugh are hushed ed in death. The roses are faded from the dimpled cheeks, the sparkling eye is closed, and the silken ringlets hang on the pale forehead, but little Jesus is now at rest, on Jesus' bosom. He now said: "Suffer little children to come to me," hath taken her to his himself.
